

Curriculum - Department of International Business Management

Liberal Arts Education

■ – Compulsory Subjects ■ – Compulsory Elective Subjects

Classification	Basics	Examining Humankind	Living in Society	Coexisting with Nature
Subject Name	Introduction to Environmental Studies	History and Culture Literature and Human Beings Area Studies(Europe and America) Area Studies(Asia) Philosophy Psychology	Japanese Constitution Law and Society Politics and Society Sociology Gender and Society	Introduction to Physics Introduction to Biology Introduction to Mathematics Introduction to Principles of Science
Classification	Information Education	Health and Sport Science	Verbal Communication
Subject Name	Practical Computer Literacy Elementary Programming Moral and Security in Information Society	Health and Sport Science I / II Health and Sport Science III/IV Health and Sport Science V Health Science	English English (Reading) I / II English (Communication) I / II English (Reading) III/IV and others French French(Beginner) I French(Basic) I French(Intermediate) I and others German German(Beginner) I German(Basic) I German(Intermediate) I and others Chinese Chinese(Beginner) I Chinese(Basic) I Chinese(Intermediate) I Korean Korean(Beginner) I Korean(Basic) I Korean(Intermediate) I and others Japanese Japanese I and others

Faculty of Business Management

Curriculum - Department of International Business Management

Department of International Business Management

After gaining an understanding of the essence of business management, students will acquire specialized knowledge, improve their foreign language proficiency and information processing abilities, and broaden their global perspectives and knowledge to become global citizens.

■ – Compulsory Subjects ■ – Compulsory Elective Subjects

Classes		1st Year	2nd Year	3rd Year	4th Year
Specialized Subjects	Specialized Basic Subjects	Bookkeeping(Basic) Introduction to Modern Economics Introduction to Accounting Introduction to Finance Introduction to Business Introduction to Distribution Introduction to Marketing Introduction to Statistics Introduction to Management Information Analysis Career Design
	International Business Administration and Economics		International Business Management International Marketing International Distribution International Trade International Economics Economy of the U.S.A. Enterprises in the U.S.A Economy of the European Union Enterprises in the European Union Economy of China Enterprises in China Enterprises in Asia Economies of Asia International Comparative Business History
				International Management Strategy International Financial Systems International Financial Institutions

Faculty of Business Management

Curriculum - Department of International Business Management

Department of International Business Management

After gaining an understanding of the essence of business management, students will acquire specialized knowledge, improve their foreign language proficiency and information processing abilities, and broaden their global perspectives and knowledge to become global citizens.

■ – Compulsory Subjects ■ – Compulsory Elective Subjects

Classes		1st Year	2nd Year	3rd Year	4th Year
Specialized Subjects	Regional Studies		International Relations International NGO Studies International Cultural Studies(English Speaking Countries) International Cultural Studies(France) International Cultural Studies(China) International Communication
	Business Administration		Management Organization Business History Modern Business Corporation History of Business Management Theories of Modern Business Management Marketing Human Resource Management Work Life Balance
				Management Strategy Production Management
	Accounting and Finance	Advanced Bookkeeping I / II	Applied Bookkeeping Industrial Bookkeeping Cost Accounting Management Information Analysis Corporate Finance Money and Banking Financial Instruments and Trading Financial Accounting I / II
				Financial Strategy International Accounting Nonprofit Organization Accounting Cash Flow Accounting Social and Environmental Accounting Management Accounting I / II

Faculty of Business Management

Curriculum - Department of International Business Management

Department of International Business Management

After gaining an understanding of the essence of business management, students will acquire specialized knowledge, improve their foreign language proficiency and information processing abilities, and broaden their global perspectives and knowledge to become global citizens.

■ – Compulsory Subjects ■ – Compulsory Elective Subjects

Classes		1st Year	2nd Year	3rd Year	4th Year
Specialized Subjects	Management Science and Information Systems	Business Mathematics
			Information Technology Statistics I / II Management Science I / II Data Analysis for Economics Data Analysis for Business
				Systems Design I / II Business Simulation I / II Decision Science
	Economics and Law	Introduction to Microeconomics Introduction to Macroeconomics
			Contemporary Industrial Organization Information and Industrial Organization Environmental Economics Introduction to Business Corporation Law
				History of Social Thought
	Practicum Subjects	Overseas Language Study
			Internship International Fieldwork I Extra Lecture I (Lectures on New Business by Entrepreneurs I)		Extra Lecture II (International Fieldwork II) Extra Lecture I (Lectures on New Business by Entrepreneurs II) Vocational Guidance
	Seminars	Introduction to Seminar	Seminar I	Seminar II	Seminar III

※This curriculum may change with time